I. INTRODUCTION

In connection with Plaintiffs' Motion for Certification of the Settlement Class, Final Approval of the Class Action Settlement, and Approval of FLSA Settlement ("Motion for Final Approval"), filed simultaneously with this motion,¹ Class Counsel, Outten & Golden LLP ("O&G") and Shavitz Law Group, P.A. ("SLG"), respectfully move this Court for an award of attorneys' fees in the amount of $1,617,000, or 33% of the Settlement Fund (the "Fund"), and reimbursement of $38,928 in out-of-pocket expenses that Class Counsel incurred in successfully prosecuting this action.

Over the past two years, Class Counsel has spent approximately 556 attorney, paralegal, and support staff hours prosecuting this case. Decl. of Justin M. Swartz in Supp. of Pls.' Mot. for Approval of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses and Mot. for Class Representative Service Awards ("Swartz Decl.") ¶ 5; Decl. of Gregg I. Shavitz in Supp. of Pls.' Mot. for Approval of Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses ("Shavitz Decl.") ¶ 14. Multiplying these hours by the hourly rate of each attorney, paralegal, and staff member results in a lodestar amount of approximately $230,445. Swartz Decl. ¶ 8.

Class Counsel's efforts to date have been without compensation, and their entitlement to payment has been wholly contingent upon achieving a good result. Swartz Decl. ¶ 12. For the reasons set forth below, Class Counsel respectfully submit that the attorneys' fees and expense reimbursement they seek are fair and reasonable under the applicable legal standards, and should be awarded in light of the contingency risk undertaken and the result achieved in this case.

¹ For a detailed account of the factual and procedural background of this case, Class Counsel refer the Court to the Memorandum of Law in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion for Final Approval, ECF No. 15, and the supporting Declaration of Justin M. Swartz, ECF No. 16.

II. CLASS COUNSEL ARE ENTITLED TO A REASONABLE FEE OF 33% OF THE SETTLEMENT FUND.

Class Counsel are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees to compensate them for their work in recovering unpaid overtime wages on behalf of the class. The Settlement Agreement, which has been preliminarily approved by the Court, provides that "Class Counsel will petition the Court for an award of attorneys' fees of no more than one-third of the Settlement Amount, and, in addition, for reimbursement of their actual litigation costs and expenses" Ex. E (Settlement Agreement) ¶ 3.2(A).² In addition, the Court-approved Notice that was sent to all Class Members stated the following:

Class Counsel will ask the Court to approve payment of up to one-third of the settlement fund for attorneys' fees. These fees would compensate Class Counsel for investigating the facts, litigating the case, and negotiating the settlement. Class Counsel will also ask the Court to approve payment of up to $50,000 for their out-of-pocket costs, excluding the cost of the settlement administrator.

Ex. F (Rule 23 Notice) ¶ 16; Ex. G (FLSA Notice) ¶ 13. No Class Member has objected to the requested attorneys' fees or expense reimbursement. Ex. H (Decl. of Jeffrey Gyomber ("Gyomber Decl.)) ¶ 13. The lack of objections is some indication of the reasonableness of the requested award and weighs in favor approving it. Sewell v. Bovis Lend Lease, Inc., No. 09 Civ. 1320124, 2012 WL 1320124, at *10 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 16, 2012); Davis v. J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., 827 F. Supp. 2d 172, 183 (W.D.N.Y. 2011). The request for 33% of the Fund plus expenses is reasonable and well within the range approved by courts in similar cases.

III. THE PERCENTAGE METHOD IS THE PREFERRED METHOD FOR AWARDING ATTORNEYS' FEES IN COMMON FUND CASES IN THE SECOND CIRCUIT.

In wage and hour class action lawsuits, public policy favors a common fund attorneys' fee award. Sewell, 2012 WL 1320124, at *13; Reyes v. Altamarea Grp., LLC, No. 10 Civ. 6451, ² Unless otherwise indicated, all exhibits are attached to the Swartz Declaration.

2011 WL 4599822, at *7 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 16, 2011). Where relatively small claims can only be prosecuted through aggregate litigation, and the law relies on prosecution by “private attorneys general,” attorneys who fill that role must be adequately compensated for their efforts. Reyes, 2011 WL 4599822, at *7; Sand v. Greenberg, No. 08 Civ. 7840, 2010 WL 69359, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 7, 2010) (statutory attorneys’ fees are meant to “encourage members of the bar to provide legal services to those whose wage claims might otherwise be too small to justify the retention of able, legal counsel”). If not, wage and hour abuses would go without remedy because attorneys would be unwilling to take on the risk. Willix v. Healthfirst Inc., No. 07 Civ. 1143, 2011 WL 754862, at *6 (E.D.N.Y. Feb. 18, 2011); Sand, 2010 WL 69359, at *3 (“But for the separate provision of legal fees, many violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act would continue unabated and uncorrected.”)

Although there are two ways to compensate attorneys for successful prosecution of statutory claims – the lodestar method and the percentage of the fund method, McDaniel v. County of Schenectady, 595 F.3d 411, 417 (2d Cir. 2010) – the trend in this Circuit is to use the percentage of the fund method in common fund cases like this one, Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Visa U.S.A., Inc., 396 F.3d 96, 121 (2d Cir. 2005); Sewell, 2012 WL 1320124, at *10.

There are several reasons that courts prefer the percentage method. First, the percentage method “directly aligns the interests of the class and its counsel” because it provides an incentive to attorneys to resolve the case efficiently and to create the largest common fund out of which payments to the class can be made. Wal-Mart Stores, 396 F.3d at 122 (internal quotation marks omitted); In re Ramp Corp. Sec. Litig., No. 05 Civ. 6521, 2008 WL 58938, at *2 n.2 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 3, 2008); In re Polaroid ERISA Litig., No. 03 Civ. 8335, 2007 WL 2116398, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. July 19, 2007); Velez v. Majik Cleaning Serv., Inc., 03 Civ. 8698, 2007 WL 7232783, at *7

The percentage method is also closely aligned with market practices because it “mimics the compensation system actually used by individual clients to compensate their attorneys.” In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 74 F. Supp. 2d 393, 397 (S.D.N.Y. 1999); see also Sewell, 2012 WL 1320124, at *10 (“[The percentage] method is similar to private practice where counsel operates on a contingency fee, negotiating a reasonable percentage of any fee ultimately awarded.”); Strougo ex rel. Brazilian Equity Fund, Inc. v. Bassini, 258 F. Supp. 2d 254, 262 (S.D.N.Y. 2003) (the percentage method “is consistent with and, indeed, is intended to mirror, practice in the private marketplace where contingent fee attorneys typically negotiate percentage fee arrangements with their clients”); In re Am. Bank Note Holographics, Inc., 127 F. Supp. 2d 418, 432 (S.D.N.Y. 2001) (the court should “determine what the lawyer would receive if he were selling his services in the market rather than being paid by court order”). This rationale is consistent with the Second Circuit’s decision in Arbor Hill Concerned Citizens Neighborhood Association v. County of Albany, where the Court held that a “presumptively reasonable fee” takes into account what a “reasonable, paying client” would pay. 522 F.3d 182, 191 (2d Cir. 2008). While Arbor Hill is not controlling because it does not address a common fund fee petition, it supports use of the percentage of the fund method. Willix, 2011 WL 754862, at *7; deMunecas v. Bold Food, LLC, No. 09 Civ. 440, 2010 WL 3322580, at *9 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 23, 2010).

Second, the percentage of the fund method promotes early resolution, and removes the incentive for plaintiffs’ lawyers to engage in wasteful litigation in order to increase their billable hours. It “provides a powerful incentive for the efficient prosecution and early resolution of litigation.” Wal-Mart Stores, 396 F.3d at 122 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also In re Ramp Corp. Sec. Litig., 2008 WL 58938, at *2 n.2; In re Polaroid ERISA Litig., 2007 WL 2116398, at *5; Velez, 2007 WL 7232783, at *7. The percentage method discourages plaintiffs' lawyers from running up their billable hours, one of the most significant downsides of the lodestar method. Savoie v. Merchants Bank, 166 F.3d 456, 460-61 (2d Cir. 1999) ("It has been noted that once the fee is set as a percentage of the fund, the plaintiffs' lawyers have no incentive to run up the number of billable hours for which they would be compensated under the lodestar method."); Karpus v. Borelli ("In re Interpublic Sec. Litig."), Nos. 02 Civ. 6527, 03 Civ. 1194, 2004 WL 2397190, at *11 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 26, 2004).

Third, the percentage method preserves judicial resources because it "relieves the court of the cumbersome, enervating, and often surrealistic process of evaluating fee petitions." Id. (quoting Savoie, 166 F.3d at 461 n.4). The "primary source of dissatisfaction [with the lodestar method] was that it resurrected the ghost of Ebenezer Scrooge, compelling district courts to engage in a gimlet-eyed review of line-item fee audits." Goldberger v. Integrated Res. Inc., 209 F.3d 43, 48-49 (2d Cir. 2000); see also In re Ramp Corp. Sec. Litig., 2008 WL 58938, at *2 n.2; In re EVCI Career Colls. Holding Corp. Sec. Litig., No. 05 Civ. 10240, 2007 WL 2230177, at *16 (S.D.N.Y. July 27, 2007). While courts still use the lodestar method as a "cross check" when applying the percentage of the fund method, they are not required to scrutinize the fee records as rigorously. Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 50; see In re Global Crossing Sec. & ERISA Litig., 225 F.R.D. 436, 468 (S.D.N.Y. 2004) (using an "implied lodestar" for the lodestar cross check); Varljen v. H.J. Meyers & Co., No. 97 Civ. 6742, 2000 WL 1683656, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 8, 2000) (using an "unexamined lodestar figure" for the lodestar cross check).

a. The Goldberger Factors Support an Award of 33% of the Fund.

Reasonableness is the touchstone for determining attorneys' fees. In Goldberger, the Second Circuit articulated six factors for courts to consider in determining the reasonableness of fee applications:

- (1) the time and labor expended by counsel;
- (2) the magnitude and complexities of the litigation;
- (3) the risk of litigation;
- (4) the quality of representation;
- (5) the requested fee in relation to the settlement; and
- (6) public policy considerations.

209 F.3d at 50 (internal quotation marks omitted). All of the Goldberger factors weigh in favor of granting approval of Class Counsel's fee application.

b. Class Counsel's Time and Labor.

Class Counsel spent significant effort to achieve the $4.9 million settlement. Before the initiation of this action, Plaintiffs conducted a thorough investigation into the merits of the potential claims and defenses. Id. ¶ 16. Plaintiffs focused their investigation and legal research on the underlying merits of Class Members' claims, the damages to which they were entitled, and the propriety of class certification. Id. Class Counsel conducted in-depth interviews with the twelve Plaintiffs to determine the hours that they worked, the wages they were paid, the nature of their duties and responsibilities, and other information relevant to their claims. Id. ¶ 17. Class Counsel also obtained and reviewed numerous documents from Plaintiffs related to their employment with KeyBank, including pay records, offer letters, employee handbooks, and other related documents. Id. Plaintiffs conducted in-depth background research on KeyBank, including reviewing SEC filings and other public documents, to obtain information on KeyBank's corporate structure and facilities. Id. ¶ 18. Plaintiffs also obtained numerous job postings for the RM position from across the country to determine the nature of the duties and responsibilities of the position. Id. Plaintiffs also obtained investigation reports and other documents about KeyBank's labor practices from the U.S. Department of Labor through a Freedom of Information Act request. Id.

On June 17, 2011, Plaintiffs sent KeyBank a letter in which they summarized their potential claims and invited KeyBank to engage in pre-litigation settlement discussions. Id. ¶ 19. In response to the letter, KeyBank agreed to enter a tolling agreement to allow the parties to discuss a possible resolution of Plaintiffs' claims. Id. ¶ 20. On November 29, 2011, the parties met in New York to exchange their initial positions. Id. Over the next several months, the parties negotiated a process for attempting to resolve the claims, entered into a confidentiality agreement to facilitate the informal exchange of documents and other data to assess the claims and calculate damages in advance of private mediation. Id.

Prior to the parties' mediation, KeyBank produced various documents, including job descriptions for the RM positions, a copy of the entire U.S. Department of Labor investigatory file concerning its review of KeyBank job classifications from February 2009, and data showing the number of Class Members in relevant job titles, salaries, incentive pay, weeks worked, and location of employment. Id. ¶ 21. KeyBank additionally produced documents evidencing branch hours per locations to assist in the analysis of hours worked. Id. Plaintiffs and KeyBank both retained economic experts to analyze the data and perform damages calculations. Id.

On June 13, 2012, the parties attended a full day mediation session in Chicago with David Rotman, Esq., a well-known and experienced mediator in wage and hour law, who traveled from California to assist the parties. Id. ¶ 22. At the mediation, the parties reached agreement on the settlement amount and several other key terms. Id. During the next several months, the parties negotiated the remaining terms of the settlement, which were memorialized in a formal Joint Settlement and Release ("Settlement Agreement"). Id. ¶ 23.

As contemplated in the Settlement Agreement, on October 19, 2012, Plaintiffs filed a Class Action Complaint against KeyBank in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York on behalf of themselves and others similarly situated alleging that KeyBank violated the Fair Labor Standards Act (“FLSA”) and the wage and hour laws of New York, Ohio, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, and Maine by improperly classifying Relationship Managers as exempt from federal and state overtime requirements, and sought recovery of overtime wages, attorneys’ fees and costs, interest, and liquidated damages. Id. ¶ 24.

In performing these tasks, Class Counsel expended approximately 556 hours of attorney, paralegal, and staff member time – an aggregate lodestar of $230,445. Id. ¶¶ 5, 8; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 14, 15. These hours are reasonable for a case like this one and were compiled from contemporaneous time records maintained by each attorney, paralegal, and support staff participating in the case. Swartz Decl. ¶ 6; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 18. Class Counsel used a small team of attorneys at any one time in order to minimize duplication of efforts and maximize billing judgment and made every effort to have the work performed by the attorney or paralegal with the lowest hourly rate who was able to effectively perform it. Swartz Decl. ¶ 5; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 17.

Moreover, the requested fee is not based solely on time and effort already expended, rather, it is also meant to compensate Class Counsel for time that will be spent administering the settlement in the future. Swartz Decl. ¶ 11; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 20. See Reyes, 2011 WL 4599822, at *8 (“The fact that Class Counsel’s fee award will not only compensate them for time and effort already expended, but for time that they will be required to spend administering the settlement going forward also supports their fee request” of 33% of the fund); Parker v. Jekyll & Hyde Entm’t Holdings, LLC, No. 08 Civ. 7670, 2010 WL 532960, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 9, 2010) (“[A]s class counsel is likely to expend significant effort in the future implementing the complex procedure agreed upon for collecting and distributing the settlement funds, the multiplier will diminish over time.”). In Class Counsel’s experience, administering class settlements of this nature and size requires a substantial and ongoing commitment. Swartz Decl. ¶ 11; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 20. For example, since the Notice was sent out, Class Counsel and staff have responded to numerous class members’ questions about the terms of the settlement and the amount of their settlement award. Swartz Decl. ¶ 11. As is common in wage and hour class actions, Class Counsel expects to respond to more Class Member inquiries after final approval, especially after checks are issued. Swartz Decl. ¶ 11; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 20.

c. Magnitude and Complexity of the Litigation.

The size and difficulty of the issues in a case are significant factors to be considered in making a fee award. Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 50; In re Prudential Sec. Inc. Ltd. P’ship Litig., 912 F. Supp. 97, 100 (S.D.N.Y. 1996). Courts have recognized that wage and hour cases involve complex legal issues. “FLSA claims typically involve complex mixed questions of fact and law[.] These statutory questions must be resolved in light of volumes of legislative history and over four decades of legal interpretation and administrative rulings.” Barrentine v. Arkansas-Best Freight Sys., Inc., 450 U.S. 728, 743 (1981).

Among FLSA cases, the most complex type is the “hybrid” action brought here, where state wage and hour violations are brought as an “opt out” class action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 in the same action as the FLSA “opt in” collective action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Because the same set of operative facts are being applied and analyzed under both statutory frameworks, justice is served and consistency and efficiency are achieved by having the litigation in one forum. See Ansoumana v. Gristede’s Operating Corp., 201 F.R.D. 81, 89 (S.D.N.Y. 2001).

This case hinged on several mixed questions of fact and law. In particular, the parties disputed the facts surrounding the job duties of RMs whom Plaintiffs alleged were misclassified under the FLSA and state law. These mixed factual and legal questions support approval of Class Counsel's attorneys' fee request. See Sewell, 2012 WL 1320124, at *12; Frank v. Eastman Kodak Co., 228 F.R.D. 174, 189 (W.D.N.Y. 2005) (mixed questions of fact and law supported court's award of attorneys' fees representing 40% of the common fund).

d. Risk of Litigation.

The risk of litigation is also an important factor in determining a fee award. Uncertainty that an ultimate recovery will be obtained is highly relevant in determining the reasonableness of an award. City of Detroit v. Grinnell Corp., 495 F.2d 448, 470 (2d Cir. 1974), abrogated by Goldberger, 209 F.3d 43 (2d Cir. 2000). “[D]espite the most rigorous and competent of efforts, success is never guaranteed.” Id. at 471.

Class Counsel undertook to prosecute this action without any assurance of payment for their services, litigating this case on a wholly contingent basis in the face of significant risk. Swartz Decl. ¶ 12; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 21. Class and collective wage and hour cases of this type are, by their very nature, complicated and time-consuming. Swartz Decl. ¶ 12; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 21. Any lawyer undertaking representation of large numbers of affected employees in such actions inevitably must be prepared to make a tremendous investment of time, energy, and resources. Swartz Decl. ¶ 12; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 21. Due also to the contingent nature of the customary fee arrangement, lawyers are asked to be prepared to make this investment with the very real possibility of an unsuccessful outcome and no fee of any kind. Swartz Decl. ¶ 12; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 21. Class Counsel stood to gain nothing in the event the case was unsuccessful. Swartz Decl. ¶ 12; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 21.

Moreover, the circumstances of this case presented hurdles to a successful recovery. Plaintiffs' misclassification claim hinged on their ability to prove that RMs performed duties that made them eligible for overtime and therefore not exempt under the FLSA and relevant state laws. For example, after seven years of litigation and a five-week trial, a jury in a similar misclassification case involving financial services employees classified as exempt administrative employees reached a defense verdict, which was upheld by both the district court and the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. Henry v. Quicken Loans, Inc., 698 F.3d 897 (2012).

Furthermore, when taking on this case, Plaintiffs' counsel faced the risk that the Court would not grant conditional certification under Section 216(b) of the FLSA or class certification under Rule 23, and such a determination would likely be reached only after extensive briefing. Defendant would likely have argued, both in its opposition to conditional and class certification and on a decertification motion, that individual questions preclude certification, including whether RMs had uniform job duties across Defendant's branches and throughout the class period. Although Plaintiffs disagree with these arguments, defendants have prevailed on arguments like these. See, e.g., Marlo v. United Parcel Serv., Inc., 639 F.3d 942, 949 (9th Cir. 2011) (affirming decertification, citing "variations in job duties that appear to be a product of employees working at different facilities, under different managers, and with different customer bases"); Myers v Hertz Corp., 624 F.3d 537, 549-51 (2d Cir. 2010) (affirming denial of class certification in misclassification case based on evidence that class members' duties varied by location); Zivali v. AT&T Mobility, LLC, 784 F. Supp. 2d 456, 470 (S.D.N.Y. 2011) (granting defendant's motion to decertify collective action).

e. Quality of Representation.

"To determine the 'quality of the representation,' courts review, among other things, the recovery obtained and the backgrounds of the lawyers involved in the lawsuit.” Taft v. Ackermans, No. 02 Civ. 7951, 2007 WL 414493, at *10 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 31, 2007) (citing In re Global Crossing, 225 F.R.D. at 467).

The recovery obtained was substantial. Defendant agreed to pay a total of $4.9 million to settle this litigation. By Class Counsel’s estimation, the settlement amount represents approximately 84% of the class’s lost wages over the liability period, calculated on a half-time basis, and 26% of the class’s lost wages calculated on a time-and-a-half basis.³ Class Members who did not opt out will receive a proportional share of the Fund based on the number of weeks they worked and the state in which they worked. Ex. A (Settlement Agreement) § 3.4(C). Weighing the benefits of the settlement against the risks associated with proceeding in the litigation, the settlement is reasonable. The settlement amounts will be available to class members without the uncertainty and delay of trial.

Class Counsel has substantial experience prosecuting large-scale wage and hour class and collective actions. Swartz Decl. ¶ 4 (listing cases); Shavitz Decl. ¶ 6 (listing cases). Class Counsel’s skill and experience litigating wage and hour cases were directly responsible for the favorable settlement and weigh in favor of granting the requested fees. Swartz Decl. ¶ 4; Velez, 2007 WL 7232783, at *7 (holding that “Lead Counsel’s experience representing plaintiffs in class actions” supported a 33.33% contingency fee award); Frank, 228 F.R.D. at 189 (citing plaintiffs’ counsel’s experience as one factor supporting an attorneys’ fee award of 40% of the fund).

³ For further details on the assumptions Class Counsel made to perform these calculations, Class Counsel refers the Court to the Memorandum of Law in Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Final Approval, ECF No. 15 at 23, 23 n.4, 24, 24 n. 5, and the supporting Declaration of Justin M. Swartz, ECF No. 16.

f. Fee in Relation to the Settlement.

Courts also consider the size of the settlement to ensure that the percentage awarded does not constitute a “windfall.” See, e.g., In re Gilat Satellite Networks, Ltd., No. 02 Civ. 1510, 2007 WL 2743675, at *16 n.41 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 18, 2007). “[T]he percentage used in calculating any given fee award must follow a sliding-scale and must bear an inverse relationship to the amount of the settlement.” Id. (quoting In re Indep. Energy Holdings PLC Sec. Litig., No. 00 Civ. 6689, 2003 WL 22244676, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 29, 2003)) (internal quotation marks omitted). Where the size of the fund is relatively small, courts typically find that requests for a greater percentage of the fund are reasonable. See, e.g., In re Gilat Satellite Networks, Ltd., 2007 WL 2743675, at *16 n.41 (finding a 30% fee would not constitute a windfall “given the modest size of the [$20 million] settlement”).

The size of the $4.9 million settlement weighs in favor of granting the requested fee award of 33% of the common fund. See, e.g., Davis, 827 F. Supp. 2d at 184-86 (awarding one-third of a $42 million settlement in a FLSA and NYLL misclassification case). Courts in this Circuit have routinely granted requests for one-third of the fund in cases with settlement funds similar to or substantially larger than this one. See, e.g., Toure v. Amerigroup Corp., No. 10 Civ. 5391, 2012 WL 3240461, at *5 (E.D.N.Y. Aug. 6, 2012) (awarding one-third of $4.45 million fund in misclassification case); Willix, 2011 WL 754862, at *6-7 (awarding one-third of $7.675 million settlement fund in FLSA and NYLL wage and hour action); Clark v. Ecolab Inc., Nos. 07 Civ. 8623, 04 Civ. 4488, 06 Civ. 5672, 2010 WL 1948198, at *8-9 (S.D.N.Y. May 11, 2010) (awarding 33% of $6 million settlement fund in FLSA and multi-state wage and hour case); Khait v. Whirlpool Corp., No. 06 Civ. 6381, 2010 WL 2025106, at *8-9 (E.D.N.Y. Jan. 20, 2010) (awarding class counsel 33% of $9.25 million settlement fund in FLSA and multi-state wage and hour case).

While courts sometimes apply a “sliding-scale” approach by lowering the percentage awarded in “megafund” cases, in order to prevent a windfall to plaintiffs’ attorneys, the $4.9 million fund in this case does not trigger such an issue. See In re Comverse Tech., Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 06 Civ. 1825, 2010 WL 2653354, at *3-4 (E.D.N.Y. Jun. 24, 2010) (noting that some courts apply “sliding-scale” approach in megafund cases, but declining to apply it in case involving $225 million settlement); In re Veeco Instruments Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 05 MDL 1695, 2007 WL 4115808, at *7 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 7, 2007) (“[A] fee of 30% of the $5.5. million settlement fund is consistent with fees awarded in . . . similar class action settlements of comparable value . . . [and] does not create a windfall.”); Taft, 2007 WL 414493, at *10 (“Thirty percent of a larger settlement fund could constitute a windfall; however, a settlement fund of [$15.175 million] does not create such an issue.”); Hicks v. Stanley, No. 01 Civ. 10071, 2005 WL 2757792, at *9 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 24, 2005) (“A settlement amount of $10 million does not raise the windfall issue in the same way as would a $100 million settlement, and a 30% fee does not produce such a windfall.”). A fee of 33% of the fund is reasonable and “consistent with the norms of class litigation in this circuit.” Willix, 2011 WL 754862, at *7 (internal quotation marks omitted).

g. Public Policy Considerations.

Public policy considerations weigh in favor of granting Class Counsel’s requested fees. In rendering awards of attorneys’ fees, “the Second Circuit and courts in this district also have taken into account the social and economic value of class actions, and the need to encourage experienced and able counsel to undertake such litigation.” In re Sumitomo Copper Litig., 74 F. Supp. 2d at 399.

The FLSA and the NYLL are remedial statutes designed to protect the wages of workers. See A.H. Phillips v. Walling, 324 U.S. 490, 493 (1945) (recognizing the FLSA’s objective – ensuring that every employee receives “a fair day’s pay for a fair day’s work”) (internal quotation marks omitted). Adequate compensation for attorneys who protect those rights by taking on such litigation furthers the remedial purpose of those statutes. Khait, 2010 WL 2025106, at *8 (“Attorneys who fill the private attorney general role must be adequately compensated for their efforts. If not, wage and hour abuses would go without remedy because attorneys would be unwilling to take on the risk.”); Sand, 2010 WL 69359, at *3 (“But for the separate provision of legal fees, many violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act would continue unabated and uncorrected.”).

Courts have recognized that fee awards in cases like this serve the dual purposes of encouraging “private attorneys general” to seek redress for violations and discouraging future misconduct of a similar nature. See Deposit Guar. Nat’l Bank v. Roper, 445 U.S. 326, 338-39 (1980); Reyes, 2011 WL 4599822, at *7; Khait, 2010 WL 2025106, at *8. Class actions are also an invaluable safeguard of public rights. See Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797, 809 (1985); J.I. Case Co. v. Borak, 377 U.S. 426, 433-34 (1964). Particularly where, as here, the settlement fund is relatively small, an award of attorneys’ fees ensures that “plaintiffs’ claims [will] likely . . . be heard.” Frank, 228 F.R.D. at 189. If courts denied sufficient attorneys’ fees “no attorneys . . . would likely be willing to take on . . . small-scale class actions[.]” Id.; deMunecas, 2010 WL 3322580, at *8; Sand, 2010 WL 69359, at *3.

IV. THE LODESTAR CROSS CHECK FURTHER SUPPORTS AN AWARD TO CLASS COUNSEL OF 33% OF THE SETTLEMENT FUND.

Following Goldberger, the trend in the Second Circuit has been to apply the percentage method and loosely use the lodestar method as a “baseline” or as a “cross check.” Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 50. The Second Circuit “encourages the practice of requiring documentation of hours as a ‘cross check’ on the reasonableness of the requested percentage.” Id.; see also Parker, 2010 WL 532960, at *2. As part of the cross check, the lodestar is determined by multiplying the hours reasonably expended on the case by a reasonable hourly rate. Hicks, 2005 WL 2757792, at *8. In calculating the lodestar for cross check purposes, the “hours documented by counsel need not be exhaustively scrutinized by the district court.” Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 50. Rather, “the reasonableness of the claimed lodestar can be tested by the court’s familiarity with the case” Id.

Courts then consider whether a multiplier is warranted based on factors, such as: (1) the contingent nature of the expected compensation for services rendered; (2) the consequent risk of non-payment viewed as of the time of filing the suit; (3) the quality of representation; and (4) the results achieved. In re Boesky Sec. Litig., 888 F. Supp. 551, 562 (S.D.N.Y. 1995); see also Goldberger, 209 F.3d at 47; Savoie, 166 F.3d at 460; Parker, 2010 WL 532960, at *2.

Courts regularly award lodestar multipliers of up to eight times lodestar, and in some cases, even higher multipliers. See Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1052-54 (9th Cir. 2002) (listing nationwide class action settlements where multiplier ranged up to 8.5 times); Sewell, 2012 WL 1320124, at *13 (“Courts routinely award lodestar multipliers between two to six.”); In re Lloyd’s Am. Trust Fund Litig., No. 96 Civ. 1262, 2002 WL 31663577, at *27 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 26, 2002) (a “multiplier of 2.09 is at the lower end of the range of multipliers awarded by courts within the Second Circuit”); see, e.g., Steiner v. Am. B’casting Co., Inc., 248 Fed. Appx. 780, 783 (9th Cir. 2007) (multiplier of 6.85 “falls well within the range of multipliers that courts have allowed”); Ramirez v. Lovin’ Oven Catering Suffolk, Inc., No. 11 Civ. 520, 2012 WL 651640, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 24, 2012) (granting attorneys’ fees equal to 6.8 times lodestar⁴); Davis, 827 F. Supp. 2d at 184-86 (awarding multiplier of 5.3 in wage and hour class action); Buccellato v. AT&T Operations, Inc., No. 10 Civ. 463, 2011 WL 3348055, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Jun. 30, 2011) (awarding multiplier of 4.3 in wage and hour class action); New England Carpenters Health Benefits Fund v. First Databank, Inc., No. 05 Civ. 11148, 2009 WL 2408560, at *2 (D. Mass. Aug. 3, 2009) (awarding multiplier of 8.3); In re Enron Corp. Sec., Derivative & ERISA Litig., 586 F. Supp. 2d 732, 803 (S.D. Tex. 2008) (awarding multiplier of 5.2); In re Cardinal Health Inc. Sec. Litig., 528 F. Supp. 2d 752, 768 (S.D. Ohio 2007) (awarding multiplier of six times); In re Rite Aid Sec. Litig., 362 F. Supp. 2d 587, 589-90 (E.D. Pa. 2005) (awarding multiplier of seven times); Maley v. Del Global Techs. Corp., 186 F. Supp. 2d 358, 371 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 29, 2002) (“modest multiplier” of 4.65 in wage and hour class action was “fair and reasonable”); In re RJR Nabisco, Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 88 Civ. 7905, 1992 WL 210138, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 24, 1992) (awarding multiplier of 6); Cosgrove v. Sullivan, 759 F. Supp. 166, 167 n. 1 (S.D.N.Y. 1991) (awarding multiplier of 8.74).

Class Counsel’s request for 33% of the Fund – $1,617,000 – is approximately 7.0 times “lodestar.” While this multiplier is near the higher end of the range of multipliers that courts have allowed, this should not result in penalizing plaintiffs’ counsel for achieving an early settlement, particular where, as here, the settlement amount is substantial. See Wal-Mart Stores, 396 F.3d at 121 (“[T]he lodestar create[s] an unanticipated disincentive to early settlements, tempt[s] lawyers to run up their hours, and compel[s] district courts to engage in a gimlet-eyed review of line-item fee audits.”); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050 n. 5 (noting that “the lodestar method does not reward early settlement” and that “class counsel should [not] necessarily receive a lesser fee for settling a case quickly”); Savoie, 166 F.3d at 461 (“[T]he percentage-of-the-fund method also removes disincentives to prompt settlement, because plaintiffs' counsel, whose fee does not increase with delay, have no reason to drag their feet.”).

Moreover, “where ‘class counsel will be required to spend significant additional time on this litigation in connection with implementing and monitoring the settlement, the multiplier will actually be significantly lower’ because the award includes not only time spent prior to the award, but after in enforcing the settlement.” Sewell, 2012 WL 1320124, at *13 (quoting Bellifemine v. Sanofi-Aventis U.S. LLC, No. 07 Civ. 2207, 2010 WL 3119374, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 6, 2010)). The multiplier that Class Counsel seeks will diminish over time as Class Counsel spends additional time working on this case, including preparing for and attending the final fairness hearing, answering class member questions, answering questions from the claims administrator, and negotiating and possibly litigating disagreements with Defendant about administering the settlement and distributing the fund. Swartz Decl. ¶ 11; see, e.g., Nash v. CVS Caremark Corp., No. 09 Civ. 79, 2013 WL 684836, at *1 (D.R.I. Feb. 25, 2013) (granting in part plaintiffs’ motion to order defendants to comply with class settlement agreement); Johnson v. Brennan, No. 10 Civ. 4712, 2012 WL 6584019, at *1-3 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 12, 2012) (resolving dispute over whether cy pres designee was appropriate); Sewell v. Bovis Lend Lease, Inc., No. 09 Civ. 6548, ECF Nos. 73, 74 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 16, 2012) (allowing late opt-in to participate in class settlement) (attached as Exhibit D to the Swartz Decl.); Gilliam v. Addicts Rehab. Ctr. Fund, No. 05 Civ. 3452, 2009 WL 466148 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 24, 2009) (granting plaintiff’s motion for contempt sanctions and ordering defendants to comply with the Court’s orders).

Courts encourage early settlement of class actions, when warranted, because early settlement allows class members to recover without unnecessary delay and allows the judicial system to focus resources elsewhere. See Hernandez v. Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc., No. 11 Civ.

8472, 2012 WL 5862749, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 15, 2012) (endorsing early settlement of wage and hour class action); Castagna v. Madison Square Garden, L.P., No. 09 Civ. 10211, 2011 WL 2208614, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Jun. 7, 2011) (commending Plaintiffs' attorneys for negotiating early settlement); Diaz v. E. Locating Serv. Inc., No. 10 Civ. 4082, 2010 WL 5507912, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 29, 2010) (granting final approval of pre-suit class settlement in wage and hour case); In re Interpublic Sec. Litig., No. 02 Civ. 6527, 2004 WL 2397190, at *12 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 26, 2004) (early settlements should be encouraged when warranted by the circumstances of the case). The parties here acted responsibly in reaching an early pre-suit settlement. See Hernandez, 2012 WL 5862749, at *2; In re Interpublic Sec. Litig., 2004 WL 2397190, at *12.

Class Counsel spent approximately 556 hours litigating and settling this matter. Swartz Decl. ¶ 5; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 14. The time spent by Class Counsel is described in Class Counsel's Declarations and Class Counsel's contemporaneous time records attached thereto. See Ex. A (O&G Time Summary); Ex. B (O&G Time Records); Shavitz Decl., Ex. A (SLG Time and Costs Summary); Shavitz Decl., Ex. B (SLG Time Records). The hours worked by Class Counsel result in a lodestar of approximately $230,445. Swartz Decl. ¶ 8; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 15. Class Counsel's request for approximately 7.0 times their lodestar is within the range of multipliers regularly awarded by courts.

V. CLASS COUNSEL ARE ENTITLED TO REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES UNDER THE SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT.

Class Counsel request reimbursement of $38,928 in out-of-pocket expenses to be paid from the Fund. "Attorneys may be compensated for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred and customarily charged to their clients, as long as they were 'incidental and necessary to the representation' of those clients." In re Indep. Energy Holdings PLC Sec. Litig., 302 F. Supp. 2d 180, 183 n.3 (S.D.N.Y. 2003) (internal quotation marks omitted). Here, Class Counsel's actual expenses of $38,928 were incidental and necessary to the representation of the Class. Swartz Decl. ¶ 9; Shavitz Decl. ¶ 14. These expenses include court and process server fees, postage and courier fees, transportation, working meals, photocopies, electronic research, expert fees, and Plaintiffs' share of the mediator's fees. Id., Ex. C (O&G Costs); Shavitz Decl., Ex. A (SLG Time and Costs Summary).

VI. CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant their Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Reimbursement of Expenses, and enter an Order: (i) awarding attorneys' fees in the amount of $1,617,000, which represents 33% of the Fund; and (ii) reimbursing $38,928 in out-of-pocket expenses that Class Counsel incurred in this action.
